

About Me

First and foremost, I love art and visual media. I have great enthusiasm for creating, collaborating, and learning along the way. Through my efforts of remaining a lifelong learner, I have gained experience with computer coding languages, home renovation projects, and stained glass. I approach every day with an open mind for personal growth, improvement, and new possibilities.

My education in fine art has instilled me with the ability to adapt designs to various styles and trends. This background, along with my ongoing passion for learning new skills, has been key to my professional development. I am passionate about collaborating with others and dedicated to delivering high-quality products with meticulous attention to detail.
